THE RELATIONS SEEM STRAINED

Mexico City Affairs Stirring Americans

SECRETARY KNOX IS GETTING BUSY

Confer De La Barra Discuss the Matter Thursday

Situation Is Subject of Serious Conference—Senor De La Barra Says His Government Will Deal Firmly with the Affair Occurring in Mexico City Where Stars and Stripes Are Pulled Down

Washington Nov 10 — The United States will demand an immediate investigation of the murder and assault of Americans reported from Mexico City

The American government will be promptly and fully informed of the result of reparation It was learned at the state department today that Secretary Knox has received a telegraphic report from United States Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City but it was kept secret pending action but it is known to contain information of such a character that it is expected the state department chief will be engaged in a conference between Senor De La Barra the ambassador and Secretary Knox It is expected the United States will offer an immediate apology to Mexico

It is said that Diaz is seeking a solution of serious problems and that this is no time to antagonize Uncle Sam If the offer of reparation is not forthcoming it appears probable that afternoon that Diaz will find himself in the worst tangle of his entire career

The Danger Point

Washington Nov 10—With the breach of cordial relations between the United States now caused by insults to the American flag in Mexico City diplomatic observers in the two countries tonight are alive to the danger that the tense situation may develop

The tense situation is the subject of serious conference at the State Department today between Secretary Knox and Senor De La Barra the Mexican ambassador who hastened to the department this morning at the request of Secretary Knox

The ambassador had received advices from his government that the Mexican government should not be held responsible for the outrages committed by the mob

More Trouble Reported

San Antonio Nov 10— Reports from the city of Monterey Mexico that two Americans were killed there by Mexicans in a fight over the Mexican national holiday and that the bodies were thrown into the street and left there all night but were taken down before the police arrived Americans in Monterey are said to be in a panic and many are leaving for the United States

Reports from Mexico City say that the bodies of the two Americans killed in Monterey were found in the street by the police and taken to the morgue

Reports received here today say that Mexico City is in a state of siege with Americans in peril Many Americans have been barricaded in their homes

Leaders of the Vera Cruz revolutionary party who followed the recent election were forced to flee the country and many of the cubicst is made by Americans in Mexico City to protect them

RACING MEN ALREADY SPIED OUT THE LAND

That Good News May Shortly Be Expected

Sporting Men of Chicago Are Jubilant Over the Recent Explosion Here and They Look for Lively Times Ahead—Horse Racing Is Now Legal—Open Book Making May Be Tried a Little Later

Chicago Nov 10—The political explosion in Chicago which put the Democrats in power has started horse racing and boxing and the last one will come about the middle of spring

The big question this morning is will Mayor Busse's administration which has been elected on a platform which calls for the suppression of gambling in all its forms, stand by its platform pledges or will it be forced to yield to the demands of the sporting element which has been clamoring for the reopening of the race tracks and the return of the open saloon

Mayor Busse has been silent on the subject since election day but it is known that he is opposed to the reopening of the race tracks and the return of the open saloon

Sporting men of Chicago are jubilant over the election of Carter H Harrison as mayor and they look for a lively time during the next two years

Harrison has been elected on a platform which calls for the suppression of gambling in all its forms and the closing of the race tracks and the return of the open saloon

In the event that Mayor Busse and his administration stand by their platform pledges and refuse to permit the reopening of the race tracks and the return of the open saloon the sporting men of Chicago will be forced to wait until the next election when they hope to elect a mayor who will be more favorable to their interests

Should Mayor Busse and his administration stand by their platform pledges and refuse to permit the reopening of the race tracks and the return of the open saloon the sporting men of Chicago will be forced to wait until the next election when they hope to elect a mayor who will be more favorable to their interests

THE STRENGTH OF SOCIALISM

Discussed Today by Noted Magazine Writer.

LATE ELECTION MARKS THE TURNING POINT

Of Socialism in United States, Says Russell.

Defeated Candidate for Governor of New York on Socialist Ticket Declares Purpose of the Socialist Program Is To Meet Economic and Industrial Problems of the Present Day—Ideas in Detail

New York Nov 10— Tuesday's election marks the turning point in the history of Socialism in the United States

This was the declaration today of Charles Edward Russell magazine writer and late Socialist candidate for governor of New York In Tuesday's election Russell polled a vote heavy enough to lift the Socialists to the rank of third strongest in New York

Until Tuesday said Russell Socialism had been a hard up hill battle in the United States But from now on as indicated by Tuesday's returns it is going to wage a winning fight Hereafter in every election the Socialist vote will have to be reckoned with Our party is now in every state in the union with the possible exception of Vermont the third strongest party

In the returns we received at Tuesday's poll could be seen the result of two elements that have been working for us One was the existing economic conditions and the other the changing political conditions It was the former, however that helped us most

Heretofore our greatest difficulty has been in getting an audience for Socialism The average workingman was fairly prosperous and did no need to investigate its claims But with the increased cost of living and other adverse economic conditions he was forced to seek a remedy and he found it in Socialism That was what counted most in our heavy vote Tuesday

Socialist Program

The other element that of changing political condition will help us more in the future Both the Republican and Democratic parties are unable to meet the modern economic conditions that are pressing down on the workingman

The purpose of the Socialist program is to meet the economic and industrial conditions with which both of the other parties have shown themselves unable to cope Socialism will go steadily forward to triumph Every one of us believes that Socialism is a great moral ideal and it is not within the province of man to stop a great moral ideal

No better demonstration of the difference between Socialism and the other parties could be given than that which occurred Tuesday night Our guns at the polls were so great that for the first time in the history of Socialism in New York we with the other parties were candidates had won held a celebration But while the followers of the other parties were cheering parading the streets and blowing their horns our followers gathered quietly in two halls and were met with cheers as they marched down the streets singing the Red Flag of Socialism in New York for the past thirty years had not hoped to see the days when our principles would gain the recognition that they did at Tuesday's election

Have Party Leaders Guessing

Providence R I Nov 10 Rhode Island as the result of the election remains Republican but by so narrow a margin that the party leaders are busy trying to figure out how they escaped complete annihilation Governor Aram J Pothier was re elected but his Democratic opponent made such inroads in the 11 769 plurality that Pothier got last year that his margin was only 903

Beveridge's Hopes Vanish

Indianapolis Ind Nov 10—Senator Beveridge's hopes for another term at Washington went glimmering when returns showed conclusively that the Democrats had elected the majority of the members of the Indiana assembly It is conceded that the Democratic state ticket was elected with a plurality of 15 000

SCHOOL BOYS ARE SHOT BY UNKNOWN

Farmer Neighbors Threaten a Lynching Bee

Geneva O Nov 10 — Edwin Rhodes and Philip Kraus both twelve are in critical condition today from buckshot wounds sustained last night when they were playing outside a Harper hold township school house in which entertainment was being held

The shooting broke up the entertainment and some of the farmers in attendance made threats of lynching whoever fired the shot Their wives prevailed on them however to drop any effort to find the shooter last night and to notify the authorities The delay undoubtedly prevented violence

Constable Sam Wareham left Geneva for the neighborhood of the holdup today expecting to make an arrest Children who have attended the school long have been subjected to threats according to the information given the officer

The entertainment was losing interest for some of the youngsters and they went into the school yard to romp They were playing hide and seek when one shot was heard and both boys fell The Rhodes lad was struck in the head the Kraus lad in the back

HOXSEY LANDS IN A PLOWED FIELD

Aviator Uninjured When Machine Drops from Clouds

Baltimore Nov 10—Arch Hoxsey had a narrow escape from death while contesting for the grand altitude prize at Halethorpe When about 2 000 feet from the ground his engine suddenly went wrong and he descended with great rapidity, landing in a field almost behind a farmer who was plowing His machine was wrecked but the aviator escaped with nothing more serious than a severe shaking up

Drexel won the cross country flight of 18 miles in 23 34 De Lesseps finishing second and Latham third

Fifty one Killed, 18 Escape.

Delagua Colo Nov 10—Through two openings scarcely 200 yards apart, the dead and living were taken from the Delagua mines of the Victor American Fuel company, but the dead far outnumbered the living Fifty one are known to be dead as the result of the explosion, while 18 escaped alive

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE ARRESTED

Charged with Poisoning Her Husband

WHEELING MAN IN A HOSPITAL

State Secures Very Damaging Evidence.

Wealthy West Virginia Meat Packer Alleges That Wife Attempts To Kill Him by Administering Arsenic in His Medicine and Water—The Husband Is Taken to One of the Hospitals of City

Wheeling W Va Nov 10—One of the most sensational affairs in this city in a number of years developed today when Mrs Laura Farnsworth Schenk wife of John O Schenk millionaire president of the J Schenk & Sons company was arrested on a charge of poisoning her husband and held without bond to await a hearing before a justice of the peace Mr Schenk is at the north Wheeling hospital and is said to be in a dying condition

Arsenic is the poison with which the alleged attempt to murder was made and its analysis of medicine and water given him while ill revealed the fact that they contained arsenic in considerable quantities As soon as suspicion was aroused Mr Schenk was removed to the hospital she is at present

The warrant for Mrs Schenk's arrest was sworn out by Prosecuting Attorney Hanlon, and she was taken in custody by Police Chief Hastings

The affair has been developing for more than three weeks and it is said that some of evidence of very damaging nature has been secured by the state Five Pinkerton detectives have been employed by relatives of Mr Schenk and the greatest precautions taken to prevent any other attempt since his removal to the hospital During the past two or three days Mrs Schenk is alleged to have urged that her husband be brought home from the hospital and action to return in the warrant being issued was immediately taken

Mr Schenk will be given a preliminary hearing later in the day

MAY COMPEL ARBITRATION

New York Express Companies Are Obdurate.

GENERAL STRIKE EXPECTED SOON

Unless Satisfactory Agreement Is Reached.

Express Companies Prepare an Appeal to Federal Courts for an Injunction To Prevent Police from Impounding Wagons Driven by Unlicensed Drivers—State Labor Commissioners Steps into Affair.

New York, Nov 10—The union drivers of most of the big coal companies in the city joined the express drivers strike today Fifty men in the employ of the company left their wagons in the yard

The International Brotherhood of Teamsters declared positively, today, that the question of a general strike would be determined at a mass meeting tonight There seems no doubt that if the express companies continue their refusal to arbitrate the dispute the general strike, involving 40,000 drivers, will be called

State Labor Commissioner John Williams came to New York, today, from Albany He declares that if the express companies do not yield he will invoke the state law which gives him the right to examine the companies books and to subpoena and examine witnesses He believes he will be able to force the companies to arbitrate

The express companies have prepared an appeal to the federal courts for an injunction to prevent the police from impounding express wagons driven by unlicensed drivers. The police, acting on orders from Mayor Gaynor, have already seized three such wagons The companies allege that the ordinance requiring all drivers to be licensed has been inoperative for years The express companies have made application for 300 drivers' licenses, but it will be many days before all these can be acted upon

In anticipation of serious rioting, following Police Commissioner Cropsey's decision not to furnish express wagons with mounted police guards, 900 additional police were today assigned to strike duty

THE CORN CROP FOR MONTH OF NOVEMBER

Report Is Issued Today by the Department of Agriculture.

DOLING OUT OF THE GOOD JOBS

Hundreds of Democrats To Get Positions.

MOVING DAY SLATED TO COME VERY SOON

And Republicans Are Now Packing Up.

Scores of Jobs Will Be Taken by the Members of Tuesday's Victorious Army—Complete Change in Committee Chairmen—The Complexion of the Next Congress as Shown by Election Returns.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Jobs for hundreds of Democrats will be provided as a result of the change in the control of the house of representatives. Republicans have held a majority in the house for fifteen years, and in that time every place on the payroll has been filled by a member of that party. The Republicans have been liberal employers, and a regiment of clerks and laborers has been organized to assist in running the legislative machine. All the places will be turned over to members of Tuesday's victorious army

Of course, there will be a complete change in the list of committee chairmen, a proceeding that will be attended with considerable pain, for some of the veteran Republicans. The chairman of a committee has the exclusive use of committee rooms, and a number of leading Republican statesmen have lived for years in the splendor of gorgeous suites. Their occupancy has been so long continued that the use of such rooms by certain of the old members has grown to be considered by them as almost a personal right.

Favored Sons.

On moving day these favored sons of fortune will have to pack their traps and remove from their luxurious surroundings in the capitol to the house office building, where the ordinary members are each assigned a single room.

In the appointment of committees, the new speaker, as far as possible, will give the chairmanships to the oldest member in point of service, on each committee. The new ways and means committee, which will have to deal with tariff revision, will undoubtedly be led by Underwood, of Alabama. Fitzgerald, of New York, is the ranking Democrat on the appropriations committee, and may be given the chairmanship despite the fact that he is unpopular with some southern members. Sparkman, of Florida, or Ransdell, of Louisiana, probably the latter, will be chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors Clayton, of Alabama, will lead the committee on judiciary, and in all probability Adamson, of Georgia, will be at the head of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. Padgett, of Tennessee, is the ranking member on the naval committee Sulzer, of New York, ranks first on the military committee, but the chairmanship may go to Hay, of Virginia.

The Next Congress.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Revised returns indicate that the Republican majority in the senate will be reduced from twenty-six to ten in the next congress. The full membership in the present congress gives the Republicans fifty and the Democrats sixty-nine The Democrats appear to have gained eight seats. This reduces the Republicans to fifty-one and increases the Democrats to forty-one. The following table shows the results in the thirty-two states where senators are to be chosen:

State	Now held by	Next Con.

*Vacancy by death of Senator Delliver and Senator McEnary.

Senators already chosen

Revised returns, today, indicate that the Democratic majority in the next house will be sixty, 225 Democrats and 165 Republicans.

Bowerman Defeated.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 10. Early returns, which indicated the election of Jay Bowerman (R) as governor were reversed by the count, and Oswald West (D) has carried the state by approximately 1,100 plurality. Statewide prohibition has been defeated by a 2 to 1 vote, and woman suffrage was also defeated

Prohibition Snowed Under.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.- Prohibition is defeated by a majority of at least 100,000 in Missouri. James A. Reed has defeated D. R. Francis for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, and St. Louis has been swept by the Republicans, while Missouri is claimed by both Democrats and Republicans.

Women Win In Washington.

Washington, Nov. 10. Washington went Republican by 40,000 as against 47,371 for Taft in 1908, and ratified the woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution. The local option election gave notable victories to the drys.

Woman Gets County Office.

Ashland, Wis., Nov 10 Mrs. Nellie Archibald, formerly a schoolteacher of Hokah, Minn., was elected treasurer of Ashland county, the first woman to hold the office in Wisconsin.

Breathitt Jailer Murdered.

Jackson, Ky., Nov 10 Following a "shooting up" of the town by a band of mountaineers, Wesley Turner, Breathitt county jailer, was shot to death on the streets Officers are searching for "Ray Pike" Noble, who had been a jail prisoner some time ago and harbored a grudge against Turner.

Local Optionist Wins.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 10.—Later returns show that Emmet O'Neal, Democrat-local optionist, was elected governor over J. O. Thompson, Republican-prohibitionist, by over 60,000 majority. A solid Democratic delegation to congress from this state has been reelected

Standard Closes Big Deal.

Findlay, O., Nov. 10.- Announcement was made here of the purchase by the Standard Oil company of more than 100,000 acres of oil producing lands near Shreveport, La., from the Treece Oil company. The purchase price is understood to be near the $9,000,000 mark. It is said to have been the largest amount ever paid out in a single deal of this kind. There are 25 deep wells producing from 10,000 to 12,000 barrels of high-grade oil daily.

TEAR DOWN THE AMERICAN FLAG

Mexico City Is Scene of Insults to Americans.

POLICE KEEP THE CROWDS MOVING

Trouble Starts Over the Burning of Mexican.

American Flag Floating in Front of a Candy Store Is Pulled Down by Several Hundred Medical Students and Trampled in the Streets. Windows in American Business Places Are Smashed.

Mexico City, Nov. 10.—Insults to the American flag and assaults made openly on American citizens in the streets were part of a demonstration against Americans, beginning with the stoning of the Mexican Herald offices. Windows in a dozen American business places were smashed. All about town shutters were hurriedly drawn and establishments closed. Forces of police appeared in the streets and kept the crowds moving.

While the police looked on and seemingly made no effort to prevent it, an American flag floating in front of a candy store in the business quarter was torn down by several hundred medical students and others who trampled and spat on the stars and stripes.

The demonstration was caused by antipathy aroused among the people by the burning at the stake of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Tex., on the night of Nov. 3

A JUDGE SHOOTS COUNTY TREASURER

Oklahoma Officials Still Fight Over National Elites

McAlester, Okla., Nov 10 News from Stuart, the county seat of Haskell county, is to the effect that A. L. Beckett, county judge of the courthouse steps shot and killed McBrayer, county treasurer, while the latter was seated himself over the head with a fire bucket. The quarrel arose over the recent fight in the Democratic party

YEGGS ATTEMPT TO ROB CITIZENS' BANK

Police Officers Chase Robbers from Eaton This Morning.

Eaton, O., Nov 10 Yeggs made an unsuccessful attempt early this morning, to crack the vault in the Citizens Bank at Eaton

Officers with bloodhounds tracked the robbers for two miles south of the home of Harry Cook, where a horse and buggy was stolen

HARMON'S VOTE GROWS LARGER

The State Ticket Seems To Be Democratic.

GOVERNOR SUFFERS LOSS IN HAMILTON

Plurality Is Reduced from Two Years Ago.

The Democrats Will Have Majority of Thirty-One on Joint Ballot, Insuring Election of Democrat as Successor to Charles F. Dick. Harmon's Friends Urge Him To Enter Senatorial Race.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Figures compiled after nearly every precinct in the state had reported, indicate that Governor Harmon's plurality may be 50,000. Attorney General Denman, who it is conceded leads the Republican ticket, admits that if Harmon's plurality reaches 93,000 there is no hope for him. Democratic State Chairman Nichols continues to maintain that Harmon will have 100,000 and that the entire state ticket is elected.

In Hamilton county Harmon's plurality of two years ago was reduced by nearly 10,000. This loss was more than made up by gains in Lucas and Cuyahoga. In Franklin county, which it was predicted Harmon would lose, he obtained a plurality of approximately 2,000. Montgomery county gave Harmon an increased plurality over that received two years ago.

Harmon's plea on the stump for a Democratic legislature to support him was heeded by the voters. The senate will stand 19 Democrats to 15 Republicans; the house 68 to 47. On joint ballot the Democrats will have 31 majority.

Explains His Success.

Governor Harmon attributed his victory to the graft charges, saying in a newspaper telegram: "It will not soon be forgotten that offices are not created for the benefit of the officials."

Reports indicate the adoption of the resolution calling for a constitutional convention. Delegates to the convention will be elected next November unless a special election is called.

Judge Cyrus B. Winters of Erie, Democratic house leader; Representative A. P. Black of Ashland, Representative Price Russell of Wayne and Representative Vining of Mercer are expected to be candidates for speaker of the house. Representative Lawrence K. Langdon of Warren probably will be leader of the Republican minority.

Representative Isaac E. Haffman, who had a narrow escape from defeat for re-election, probably will be an aspirant for president pro tem. of the senate. Senator David Tod of Youngstown probably will become the leader of the Republican minority in the senate.

Urged To Make Race.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 10.—Re-elected by so great a plurality that he carried with him the whole state ticket and Democratic majorities in both houses of the assembly, friends of Governor Harmon are urging him to accept the senatorial election to Charles Dick's seat. They have pointed out to him that his acceptance not only would prevent a bitter struggle among half a dozen aspirants, but would permit him to disclaim responsibility for the actions of the Democratic legislature in the event it put on the books objectionable laws and took off the books the county option law- the last decision a certainty. They argue that the governor would jeopardize his popularity by remaining in the statehouse and that he could as easily seek the presidential nomination in 1912 from Washington as from Columbus perhaps more easily, in having evaded shafts of criticism directed at the legislature.

The senatorial possibilities include Edward W. Henley, Dayton, state central committee chairman; John R. McLean, owner of the Cincinnati Enquirer and Washington Post, M. E. Ingalls, Cincinnati railway magnate Adam Pomerene, Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo; Former Governor James E. Campbell, Former Congressman John J. Lentz and Colonel James Kilbourne of Columbus.

Besides winning the assembly, the Democrats have captured 10 congressional districts, leaving the Republicans six, a Democratic gain of seven seats.

Socialists Did Well.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10. Tom Clifford Socialist candidate for governor received 10,714 votes in Franklin county, and J. L. Bachman, Socialist candidate for congress, received 11,962.

Goes Into Retirement.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Nov. 10 Theodore Roosevelt went into seclusion for a 10 days' rest. He would make no comment upon the defeat of the Republicans in New York or elsewhere. A diplomatic negro butler conveyed the information to a small army of newspaper men that the colonel didn't want to see anybody reporters least of all.

JAMES KILBOURNE

Mentioned as Possible Successor to Senator C. F. Dick.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When cooking a shoulder or leg of pork many people have the rind left on, scoring it carefully before cooking.

Try mixing flour and water for thickening with a fork instead of the usual spoon. It is less likely to turn lumpy.

A rubbing with cocoa butter once or twice a week, after a bath, will go a long way to insuring foot comfort at all times.

A spoonful of flour added to the grease in which eggs are to be fried will prevent them from sticking or breaking.

A nice relish to serve with fish is raw cabbage cut very fine and covered with French dressing beaten almost to an emulsion.

When washing fine china or cut glass, a heavy Turkish towel on the bottom of the dishpan will often prevent chipping.

Rubbing the entire surface of a felt hat with fine sandpaper will remove every speck of dirt and dust and leave the hat like new.

To work buttonholes in net, baste a small piece of muslin underneath. Work the buttonhole through that, afterward cutting the muslin away underneath.

The syrup from the pickled peaches done up a year ago may be used this season. Heat the syrup to the boiling point, and use it as though fresh.

To prevent the cork in a bottle containing a sticky mixture from becoming too tightly fastened, dip the cork in olive oil before placing it in the bottle.

Match marks may be removed from white paint by rubbing with a cut lemon. To forestall further marring smear the spot lightly with vaseline.

When cooking cabbage, the unpleasant odor may be avoided if a piece of charcoal, stale bread or a pinch of baking soda is added to the water.

When gas mantles are blackened they can be cleared by sprinkling with salt when flame is turned low; turn light full for a minute and remove till clear.

Linen that has become yellow with age may be made beautifully white by boiling it in a lather made of one pound white soap to one gallon of milk. After boiling, rinse in two waters and add bluing to the last water.

An orange peel placed on a hot stove makes a fine deodorizer If the stove is hot enough it will burn the celluloid. However, if the stove is not hot enough, just touch a match to the peeling (after it has been dried through).

To wash lace curtains baste a narrow strip of muslin along each outer edge and let it remain until the washing and drying process is completed, and you will find your curtains straight and they will not sag at the least.

In cleaning wall paper with bread crumbs use two days' old bread, in small pieces, clean with downward strokes. Never go over same place and never work horizontally. Throw away coiled part of bread constantly.

If one's serge suit becomes a little shiny, try sponging it with warm water, diluted with water, if the water is very strong. This is not a permanent relief, but certainly will improve the appearance of the garment for a time.

Down comfortables are not very desirable for a baby unless special warmth is desired, as in sleeping in the open air or a very cold room They cannot be washed easily and if they should be hung out of doors to air every day.

You can make an old ice-chest look like new by scrubbing it thoroughly with a strong washing powder. Let dry, put on a thick coat of white enamel and let stand over-night. When dry, add the second coat. Finish outside with a coat of varnish.

Buckskin shoes and slippers are best cleaned with gasoline It is best after cleaning white shoes. Keep of canvas or of buckskin, to stuff the shoe trees into them. Then you need not fear lest the shoes will shrink in the drying. Do not use gasoline near a fire.

CONGRESS MAY BALK PRESIDENT

The Taft Program Seems in Danger

HOUSE STRONGLY DEMOCRATIC NOW

The Senate Is Also Very Close to Democratic.

Opposition to Champ Clark for Speaker Already in Sight—Republicans, Seeking New Floor Leader, May Pick on Cannon To Succeed Payne—Speakership Fight To Be a Lively One.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Throughout the life of the Sixty-second congress President Taft will be threatened by the opposition of both branches of the national legislature. This is clearly indicated in the returns from the elections, and is a matter of grave concern to administration leaders. In the new congress the house will be Democratic by a majority of approximately 56. A gain of nine Democratic votes will in all probability be registered in the senate. The present Republican majority in the senate is 26. The election of nine Democratic senators to take the place of Republicans reduces the Republican majority to eight.

The indications are that the Democrats will elect one senator in each of the following states: New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Missouri, Nevada, West Virginia and Maine. The senate, therefore, in the new congress will stand 50 Republicans and 42 Democrats. There is in the senate now, and will be in the Sixty-second congress, a group of militant insurgents. Six of these insurgents, joining with the Democrats, would reduce the regular Republican strength to 44 and increase the Democratic-insurgent vote to 48, thus wresting control of the senate from the Republican leadership.

Expect Outside Help.

The Republicans who may be expected to join with the Democrats on occasions are LaFollette of Wisconsin, Cummins of Iowa, Bristow of Kansas, Clapp of Minnesota and possibly Borah of Idaho. These senators have strayed from the party fold before, and Republican leaders here expect to see them do so again. There are other Republican senators who it is expected may, in connection with certain classes of legislation, join with the Democrats and take away control from the responsible Republican leadership. They are Brown of Nebraska, Crawford of South Dakota and Nelson of Minnesota. The last named senator voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. Years ago as a member of the house he left his party and voted for the Mills Democratic tariff bill.

In addition to this, it is pointed out here that Miles Poindexter of Washington and Asle J. Gronna of North Dakota, who now represent their states in the house, are insurgents of the most radical type. Judging from their past records they are likely to join with the Democrats on the slightest provocation.

While administration leaders are making no comment for publication on the result, they admit privately that the Democratic house and a senate that may at times be in control of a majority composed of Democrats and progressive Republicans, will doubtless make it impossible for the president to put through his legislative program.

Speakership Fight Is Lively.

Politicians here look forward to a bitter fight over the speakership when the Democrats assemble in Washington in December, 1911, to organize the house. Insurgency has played havoc with the regular Republican organization in the house during the past few years. Many Republicans and some Democrats are of the opinion that the Democratic organization in the new congress will be confronted with a like movement. Champ Clark of Missouri, who will be the favorite at the beginning of the race for the Democratic speakership, is a radical of the Bryan school. New blood is to be injected into the house Democracy. It comes from the east and the west. The New York contingent in congress is expected to launch a speakership boom as an offset to that of Mr. Clark. In addition there is bound to be a determined contest if Mr. Clark and his followers attempt to make radical changes in the so-called Cannon rules

When the time comes to organize the new house the Republicans will have to select a minority leader. There is a good deal of speculation here as to who will fall heir to this position. Representative Serene E. Payne of New York has held the post of Republican floor leader since the death of Mr. Dingly. Mr. Dingly was chairman of the ways and means committee. He was succeeded by Mr. Payne, who became floor leader in accordance with custom. Joseph Cannon as speaker was the actual floor leader, and if he retains his health he will appear in the new house with bells on.

Burkett Is Defeated.

Lincoln, Nov 10 -Latest returns indicate that the Republicans have elected Aldrich governor by a majority approximating 25,000. Burkett (R.) for senator is defeated by Hitchcock, who has 20,000 votes to spare. Will Hayward, secretary of the Republican national committee, was defeated for congress by Congressman McGuire by a few hundred votes. Congressman Norris (R.) is reelected by 3,500 plurality.

Iowa Holds Fast.

Des Moines, Nov 10.—In the election in Iowa two Democratic congressmen were grown where only one grew before. Otherwise the political complexion of the state remains unchanged, save that the big Republican majorities of other years was all but wiped out.

Early returns indicated the election of Claude R. Porter, the Democratic candidate for governor, but when the country vote began to arrive Governor Carroll showed steady gains. The governor's plurality is estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000.

Frauds Are Alleged.

Pittsburg, Nov. 10. — Revised figures have cut down the plurality of John K. Tener (R.) for governor to 18,000 instead of 80,000, which had been confidently claimed by the state leaders. The Keystone party leaders claim that Tener was not elected at all, that they will have little trouble in proving fraud at the polls in both Pittsburg and Philadelphia. The open assertion is made by the Keystone people that Berry was elected by at least 70,000 plurality, but that the organization machines counted him out in favor of Tener.

Senatorial Fight Opens.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 10.—Complete returns from this state show that the Democrats will have 51 votes in the house of delegates and 15 in the senate. The Republicans will have 15 in the house and the same number in the senate Already Democratic leaders have begun to align themselves for the United States senatorial fight which unexpectedly has been thrust upon them. John J. Cornwell is the choice of the Democratic delegation from this end of the state.

FASHION AND FADS.

Mourning chains of gun-metal or black enamel are to be had plain or set with either moonstones or pearls.

Afternoon frocks of dark velvet and satin are appearing with broad cuffs of ermine or small collars to match.

Pleats let in at the sides, the back or the front, are characteristic of the popular coat forms, even the most exclusive.

Many housegowns are made open at the throat, giving opportunity for displaying fascinating necklaces and jewel collars.

The "shackle" fashion has practically eliminated all trains, even the most elaborate dance frocks appearing without it.

Wide girdles are much used in house dress designs, and usually match a lower skirt trimming or that of the sleeves.

Cross-grain leather bags are stitched by machine to give a striped effect, the stitching being done in a contrasting color.

Foulard is becoming one of the most popular silks for fall wear. It is used not only for entire dresses, but for trimmings.

Austrian velour hats, made derby style, are brand new in fashion and serve bewitchingly for women's equestrian headgear.

The accessories and closings for the fur coats are fancy frogs, buttons of braid, cords, loops, tassels and other ornaments.

Paris seems to have gone utterly mad over everything Indian, a craze which originated with the famous Apache dance.

The display of wool challis is alluring; some of the prettiest have dainty figures with borders harmonizing in color and design.

The frill of lace fastened to the brim of a hat so it falls gracefully over the hair, gives a bewitching touch, even to a plain face.

Many of the new tailored suits for winter show below the sailor collar, which is so popular, a false collar of stitching or more usually of braiding.

Satin scarfs are as popular as when they first appeared a month or so ago, but now it is velvet that is being used, and it is certainly rich and most becoming.

Some of the skirts now shown are here and there strapped and banded, but the acute "hobble" style, when shown at all, is offered with an air of deprecation.

Plain and embroidered collars are still holding their own in regular and low-neck shapes, and it is expected that they will be largely worn throughout the winter with both plain-tailored, tub and silk and wool waists, and with some of the fancier high-neck styles.

If the face and head can endure a perfect or modified Greek style of coiffure this is the one to select, with soft bands of ribbon, metal, a drapery of satin, tulle, etc., knotted on the side, held by drapery, a simple knot, etc. A black velvet ribbon is the simplest bandeau worn.

The latest jabots are more or less flat in effect and in sharp points or square or rounded ends, reaching the length of the sash with which outline is in the form of jabots of all lengths, as it depends on carrying out the long line now necessary to the fashionable figure.

Bonillon, consommé, clear soups and purees, as well as for any right form of soup.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT ON DELAWARE PIKE

An Automobile Turns Turtle South of the City.

TWO OCCUPANTS ARE PINNED UNDER MACHINE

Auto Is Driven by Grover Dull and Harry Murphy of Columbus—Accident Occurs When Auto Tries To Pass a Vehicle Driven by John Weber of This City.

A serious automobile wreck occurred at a point near the south line of St. Mary's Catholic cemetery on the Delaware pike Thursday morning about 9 30 o'clock, when a big Matthewson seven-passenger touring car weighing nearly 4,300 pounds turned turtle and pitched over the embankment into the ditch at the side of the road when passing a rig The machine was quite badly damaged and Grover Dull, the chauffeur, and Harry Murphy, who were in the machine, had a narrow escape from serious injury

The big car was the property of Straus Brothers' company, of Columbus, and was being driven here, where Mr Murphy, an agent of the company, was to look after business during the day At the point mentioned, John Weber, a tinner employed by the Marion Roofing company, drove up with a wagon enroute to the country to do some work Both turned to the side of the road and the big machine apparently got too close to the ditch and skidded over, pinning the two men underneath At first it was thought they were badly injured, but it developed that only bruises of a painful though not serious nature were suffered

Assistance was summoned from a nearby farm-house. Parties from this city went to the scene and the damaged machine was taken to the garage of the Marion Automobile company, where the necessary repairs are being made

MUST SECURE LICENSE IN MARION COUNTY

Bride Has Her Legal Residence in This County

Love is said to laugh at bolts and bars, but this was not the case of Elmer G Kile of Kilbville No bolts and bars were in the road but the young man will have to go to Marion county to secure a license to wed his choice

Mr Kile is twenty three years of age and a farmer by occupation He came to the probate court office this morning and applied for a license to wed Miss Olive Schrock who it seems is at present visiting relatives in the vicinity of Kilbville Mr Kile answered all the questions concerning his residence and age readily successfully But when it came to the lady it was found that she has a legal residence in LaRue, Marion county where her parents reside hence the license could not be taken out in this county

Mr Kile declared his intention of going to Marion at once, where he can secure the necessary license—Marysville Tribune

COMMON PLEAS COURT

The reply of the plaintiff to the answer and cross-petition of Frederick J Crafts has been filed in the suit of Cares T Want against Frederick J Crafts, Charles, H Crafts and Frankie Crafts He sets up a general denial and asks that the answer and cross-petition be dismissed

A suit in foreclosure was brought in the common pleas court, Monday through Attorneys Crissinger & Guthery, by Charles Holstetter against Harley B Dickason, Ada B Dickason and John H Dwyer and Margaret A Dwyer He sets up that Harley B Dickason and Ada B Dickason husband and wife, executed and delivered to him their certain mortgage deed, conveying to him lots Nos 6595 and 6596, in the North State Street addition to the city of Marion, except seventy-five feet off the west end of the lots heretofore conveyed by Charles Holstetter and wife to Isabelle D Hudson The condition of the mortgage was that the defendants, Harley B and Ada B Dickason, were to pay their promissory note for $1,000 with interest at six per cent, in monthly installments The plaintiff avers that John H Dwyer claims title to the premises and asks that he and his wife, Margaret Dwyer, be required to set up whatever interest they may have, or be forever barred, that the mortgage be foreclosed and that the premises described be sold

In the suit of Jacob I Schoenlaub and others against G O Cruikshank, the defendant has filed a motion in the common pleas court to quash the service of summons heretofore made on the defendant, for the reason that the defendant is a resident of Putnam county

Long pelerines and coats and cloaks and wraps of various furs will be in use for evening wear more than for street, for the latter it is expected that the short coat or jacket from twenty-two to thirty six inches long will have a vogue

Evening shoes are to be lower in the heels and rich in fabrics than for many a year

GEORGE I DWYER,
Democratic Candidate Chosen by the Voters To Be Surveyor of the County.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS MOST ENTHUSIASTIC

Over the Result of the Elections of Tuesday.

RECEIVES THE RETURNS WITH GREATEST JOY

News from New York Gives Them an Idea of What Is To Come from Ohio, But Even Then They Are Surprised by the Magnitude of the Landslide.

Tuesday night there was much enthusiasm displayed by the Democrats of Marion and Marion county over the big Democratic landslide The returns from New York, Ohio and other states early indicated a Democratic victory and there were many wild shouts

Elections are usually quiet so far as concerns fights in Marion and the police had no difficulty The election of Harding was a source of great joy to the Democrats and the ultra-wet Republicans all over Ohio, and their enthusiasm was unbounded

Warren G Harding Republican nominee for governor received the returns by special messenger at his Mt Vernon avenue home He did not concede defeat until 12 30 Wednesday morning when he issued a statement to the city press to the effect that the result did not greatly surprise him nor bring a serious personal disappointment

There have been too many articles to admit of a basis analysis," Mr Harding declared at that hour I think the majority of Republicans believe there is a great party, and is still devoted to the great policy of protection Unrest and dissatisfaction have been in the air and the majority naturally encounters the storm But the Republican party will come back if not prevented"

Everywhere the election returns were received with as much interest as is manifested in a presidential election Several lodge held open house and served luncheon throughout the night as the returns came in Marion Lodge, No 102, and Canby Lodge, No 91, Knights of Pythias, the Masonic lodge, the Elks and the Knights of Columbus received the returns, the lodge quarters being thronged up until midnight Returns were also received at both the Republican and Democratic headquarters the Y M C A, the Grand opera-house, the Bijou theater, Scofield & Durfees office and the home of Henry B Hane The Central Union Telephone secured the returns from the Western Union, and then telephoned the results to the villages of the county Election returns were also received and posted by the following cigar stores Comers, Walters, the Light House and Selby & Bogardus

PLURALITIES GIVEN TWO CANDIDATES

Dr. R. H. Finefrock Defeats R. L. Cameron for Senator

Contrary to the report in the morning newspapers, Dr R H Finefrock Democrat, of Prospect, has defeated Senator R L Cameron, of Marysville Dr Finefrock's unofficial plurality in the Thirteenth senatorial district is 376

Cameron carried his home county by a small majority and also carried Logan county by a big majority, but not enough to overcome Dr Finefrock's splendid vote received in his home county

Following are the pluralities received by the two candidates Marion county, 1,382 for Finefrock, Hardin county, 276 for Finefrock, Union county, 260 for Cameron; Logan county, 1,017 for Cameron

Rubber In Fruit Skins.

A cloudy emulsion pressed from the green fruit of the Martinique banana has been found to contain ten per cent. of rubber, equivalent to 50 per cent. of the dry weight of the expressed juice Analysis showed that the green banana skins contain as much as 20 per cent of rubber, while the dried skins yielded seven per cent. of rubber and seven per cent of wax, resin and chlorophyll Some varieties are reported to be even richer in rubber than the Martinique banana

Calomel and Caesar.

Old friendships are destroyed by toasted cheese or welsh rabbit Hard salted meat has led to suicide Unpleasant feelings of the body produce corresponding sensations in the mind, and a great scope of wretchedness is sketched out by a morsel of misguided and indigestible food Of such infinite consequence to happiness is it to study the body' As Sidney Smith said' 'Calomel is often of more consequence than Caesar"

To Fold a Blanket.

Nearly every one keeps an additional blanket at the foot of the bed in case it is needed on a cold night. A very convenient way to arrange this is to fold the blanket back and forth like a fan, and if one takes hold of the top edge it draws up evenly and without any trouble

Spiritual the Real.

Yes it is true that there are moments when the flesh is nothing to me when I feel to be the vision, God and the spiritual the only real and true. Beyond upon it the spiritual is the real —Tennyson

"Mexicans in the United States" was the topic for discussion at the meeting of the home society and the program was opened with prayer for the missionaries, this service being conducted by Mrs S. E Barlow After the reports of the secretary and treasurer, the topic was taken up with Mrs Carrol W May as leader. Mrs. William Ellery discussed "The First Missionary Work in Mexico," and Mrs. A. B. Lawson gave a reading on the subject Mrs S L Barlow read a letter from Miss Mary Snodgrass, the missionary of the society at Tung Chow, China The annual thank-offering was taken up and over $75 was obtained

After the program, supper was served.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO DEPARTED SISTER

Resolutions as to the Death of Mrs. Mary Mayer.

Paramount Council, No. 37, Daughters of America, has adopted the following resolutions on the death of Mrs Mary Mayer:

Whereas, It has pleased God the Divine Councilor, to visit our order and remove from among us our worthy and esteemed sister, and

Whereas, By her union with us she labored to assist in the elevation of mankind, and to gain that wisdom which would enable herself and others to stand worthily among the highest and best,

Resolved, That in the death of Sister Mayer, we bow our heads in humble submission to the will of God and express our regret at the loss in our fraternal family.

Resolved, That we offer to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy and remind them that His will be done, and while we mourn the departure from our midst of a beloved sister let us drop a tear of sympathy with those whose loss has been greater than ours. Let us cherish her memory and profit by this proof of the divine power.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes, and they be published in the daily papers, and a copy be presented the family.

JOHN S. DUDLEY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mr. Dudley Is Mayor of Marion Three Times.

IS PROMINENT IN ODD FELLOW CIRCLES

Resides in Marion a Great Many Years and Is Held in the Highest Regard of a Wide Circle of Friends—His Death Is Expected Some Time.

John S. Dudley, seventy-two years old, three times mayor of Marion, died of uraemic poisoning at his home, No. 124 Olney avenue, Saturday night at 8:45 o'clock. His death was not unexpected.

Four years ago, Mr. Dudley suffered a stroke of paralysis, since which time he had been gradually failing. His death will be learned with profoundest regrets by hundreds of friends throughout the city and county.

Born on a farm near Lexington, Richland county, the son of Ezra and Elmira Bailey Dudley, he remained with his father until sixteen years of age. He was born June 1, 1838. At the age of eighteen he went to Olivesburg, Richland county, where he apprenticed himself to learn the saddler's trade.

Mr. Dudley came to Marion in 1856. For many years he was employed by the late T. J. Magruder, who was a saddler. He was elected mayor in 1890, when Marion became a city, and served three terms. In 1893, the Republicans nominated him for sheriff and he lacked only a little over 100 of being elected.

Of late years, Mr. Dudley has been in partnership with Schiller Fogelson in repair work, and was president of the Dudley Manufacturing company, which turned out copyholders for typewriters.

For many years, Mr. Dudley was prominent in Odd Fellowship, having held the office of grand district deputy several terms. He was a member of Kosciusko Lodge, No. 58, and a charter member of Sosnowski Rebekah lodge. He also belonged to the Royal Arcanum. He was well known to Odd Fellows throughout the state.

Mr. Dudley had twice been married. He is survived by the widow of his second marriage, formerly Miss Flood, of Sandusky, whom he married August 30, 1870, and two children: Nellie, wife of H. D. Feymire, of Wichita, Kansas, a daughter by his first marriage, and Grace, wife of Robert C. Finton, of this city.

The funeral services were held at the late residence, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and were in charge of the Odd Fellows. Interment was made in the Marion cemetery.

FRIENDS ARE GIVEN PLEASANT SURPRISE

Miss Parratt and Mr. Willard Heter Married.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE UNITED SECRETLY

They Elope to Canada Where They Are Married October 22—No Objections to the Marriage, but Simply a Desire to Surprise Friends. Will Reside Here.

After rumors had been repeatedly in circulation that they had been married during the summer, Miss Blanche D. Parratt and Mr. Willard Heter eloped to Windsor, Canada, October 22, and announcement of their marriage was made by them, Monday, much to the surprise of their friends and relatives in this city.

Asked why they had kept their marriage a secret, the groom said Monday morning that it was their plan to give their friends a real surprise.

"So there were no objections," added the groom, "we just thought it would be a lot of fun and then, too, we didn't want to announce it until we were ready for housekeeping."

The young people left here over the Hocking Valley at midnight and were married the morning of October 22 at the home of the Methodist minister at Windsor. On their return home they visited relatives at various points.

The groom is well known. He is a freight clerk in the local offices of the Pennsylvania railroad. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Parratt, of Lincoln avenue. Both are of legal age.

Mr. and Mrs. Heter are to make their home on Uhler avenue where the groom has prepared a home.

AN ITALIAN DIES OF INJURIES MONDAY

Is Struck by an Erie Train Over a Week Ago.

Raffacle Carnanbi ne, a twenty-year-old Italian, died at the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium, Monday morning at 1 o'clock, as a result of injuries received by being struck by Erie eastbound passenger train, No. 8, at the Leader street viaduct, Monday morning, October 31.

Carnanbine was employed by the Erie Railroad company as a section man. He was walking along the tracks and walked directly in front of the train, evidently becoming confused by the number of tracks and blinded by the steam from the engine. He was hurled from the tracks, suffering a compound fracture of the right leg and internal injuries. A brother is employed at the Erie transfer here.

The funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning.

LINCOLN HINAMON WINS GALION BRIDE

Is Married to Mrs. Mattie Green at Bucyrus.

Lincoln Hinamon, foreman of the Erie ice plant here, surprised his railroad friends, Wednesday evening, by going to Bucyrus where he was united in marriage to Mrs. Mattie Green, of Galion. The wedding ceremony was very simple and was performed by Rev. J. Frank Smith, pastor of the Methodist church at Bucyrus. Mr. and Mrs. Hinamon are to make their home in this city.

TOLD ALL HE KNEW AT ONCE

Dyspeptic-Looking Man Successfully Choked Off the Conversation of His Fellow Passenger.

A dyspeptic-looking man had taken his seat in a railway carriage, when a fellow-passenger bent forward with a confidential "Pardon me, sir, but what—"

The dyspeptic was ready.

"Adam was the first man," he said, in a cold, dull monotone. "Moses was the meekest man; there never was any meekest woman. Columbus discovered America. In the winter of 1847 and 1848 potatoes formed almost the sole food of the Irish peasantry. White sheep eat more than black ones, because there are more of them. A door is not a door when its ajar. Golf is pronounced 'goff.' It is highly improper to wear a wide-awake with a frock coat. Yes, it is a good morning, and I have used everybody's soap. I—"

Here the inquiring man attempted an interruption, but it was of no avail.

"The foregoing information," went on the accentless voice, "is all I know about anything of any name or nature—past, present or future. I want nothing in the world but quietude," he added; "and if you don't let me alone I'll threw my grip out of the window and jump out after it. I have spoken!"

A Doubtful Member.

In Miss Wood's kindergarten class there were eight pupils, four girls and four boys. One of the boys, however, had not yet reached the estate of kilts, not to mention trousers. Accordingly, when little Susan Phelps was asked by a visitor to tell how many boys and how many girls there were, her confused reasoning went as follows:

"There's eight, one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, Miss Elliott," she replied. "And if he's a girl"—she pointed at one who were dresses instead of manly garb—"why, there's five girls, and one, two, three boys. But if she's a boy, there's one, two, three, four girls, and one, two—four boys. She's really a boy, you know, Miss Elliott," she confided, in conclusion.—Youth's Companion.

THANKSGIVING

THE EARTH IS FULL OF HIS PRAISE.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Again the earth in stately course has turned
Her face unto the vital sun above,
While ever unto him her soul has yearned
To speak, through leaf and flower and fruit, her love,
And now her crowning season comes once more
When he repays her love with golden store.

And she is lavish in her thankfulness
And opulent in praise. So filled is she
With gratitude she would all creatures bless.
How much more thankful, therefore, should we be
To Him who has o'er sun and earth command
And holds them "in the hollow of His hand!"

If earth inanimate can show her love
And praise, how much more should we, who feel,
Pour forth our gratitude to One above,
That He to us His love should thus reveal,
In all this heaped bounty and this good
That flows from His full heart of fatherhood.

And how much in this truly favored land
Have we for deep thanksgiving! In all time
Have never poured from out God's opulent hand
Such blessings as have filled our own dear clime.
Peace, progress, length of days and liberty,
Our Father, these and more we owe to Thee.

Thine was the hand that guided Washington
And led us out of darkness into light.
It was Thy love in Lincoln's soul that won
Mankind to mercy; it was by Thy might
That in achievements this our age has shown
Such strides as earth before had never known.

It was by Thee that we were moved to give
The boon of freedom unto alien isles.
In Thy today how good it is to live!
Thy future seems all golden afterwhiles.
How hast Thou blest our land, Lord, in its youth!
Oh, keep it ever loyal to Thy truth!

BACK TO THE OLD HOMESTEAD

A Thanksgiving Story

BY George Ethelbert Walsh

[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

At the foot of the hill where the turnpike swerved sharply to the left to avoid climbing the abrupt elevation and close by the brook, which, finding its source somewhere among the hilltops, meandered leisurely through swamp and swale and cut the farm squarely in two, stood the old homestead. The moss grown shingled roof peeped modestly from behind a screen of age-old trees, and the low down sagging foundations were scarcely anywhere visible behind the rampant growth of rosebushes that clambered halfway up the south side of the house. There were lilacs grown into trees, syringas that crowded half across the gravel walk, a giant honeysuckle vine that had been choked and pruned back until its gnarled old trunk resembled a grotesque freak of nature.

The old homestead had housed and reared seven generations of men and women of the same name, but it had come to pass that those of the seventh generation were widely scattered and the old homestead no longer knew them. There were seven of this generation—seven boys—and the last to leave the old homestead had gone forth, like the others, to battle in the larger world for life and happiness.

"MOTHER, I'M GOING TO THE CITY TOMORROW."

Unlike many old couples left behind on the farm to watch and tend it in its declining years, these two were not shorn of the necessaries or even the luxuries of life. They had laid aside their little sum, and they lived with no dread of the morrow. No shadow of debt or threat of mortgage foreclosure hung over their heads, and they lived in quiet peace on the homestead that had sheltered so many of their ancestors.

But there was loneliness in the mother heart. When the first son had broken away from the farm the pang had been sharp and cruel, but there were six left behind. Then the second had grown restless and followed in the footsteps of the elder. The third waited a few years, silently tilling the fertile farm and watching for his chance. It came one day with unexpected abruptness.

"Mother, I'm going to the city tomorrow," he said at the close of a hard day's work in the fields. "My opportunity has come."

There was no open opposition, but the heartstrings were quivering. So the third son went, and after him the fourth. In a few years the remaining sturdy babies had grown to the stature of manhood, and they, too, cast longing eyes cityward. Would not one of them remain on the farm?

The last to go had been her favorite, for was he not the baby? And with his going the light seemed to go out of the world for the aged couple. But these two were of pioneer stock, and they had met and overcome adversity in many forms, and in time they fell back upon each other's company and found a measure of contentment.

There were seven sons, and each week seven letters left the homestead mailed to different addresses. One went to Chicago, another to New York, a third to Boston, two to St. Louis, one far off to the Pacific coast and the last to a nearby city. Monday was devoted to thoughts of the eldest, and the mother brain and heart put into his letter all the little news of the home life which he had loved. He had been devoted to the live stock, and she recorded faithfully the details of their progress. Billy, his pet horse, had long since died, but another colt had been named after him, and he was always held in reserve for his absent owner.

READ OVER AND OVER AGAIN THE BRIEF EPISTLES.

Tuesday's letter was more difficult of composition. It called her forth into the woods to get news, for the second son had been a roamer and a friend of every squirrel and rabbit. He could imitate the call of the bluejay and whistle the piping song of the finches. She had learned the nesting season of the different birds he had loved, and her letters were full of woodland scenes and wild life.

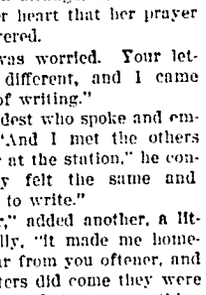
Wednesday was a day of easy letter writing. It was all about crops, the condition of the north and south fields, the probable yield per acre and in harvest time an account of the results. On Thursday her letter was addressed to the young architect in New York, and she spoke of the things which he had loved, and Friday she roamed the woods again for material, for he of San Francisco was the hunter and trapper of the family, and Saturdays

The summer passed and harvest time approached again. The Thanksgiving season brought its train of memories.

A week before Thanksgiving she looked anxiously for letters from her sons. Each day they drove a mile to the village for their mail, but the letters were not there. Two days before the event the frail body was keyed to intense suspense. On the morrow one of them surely would write and gladden her heart. But they returned from the postoffice without the letter.

"We must go to the village today, father," she urged on Thanksgiving morning. "We need—we need salt or sugar, I forget which."

The man accepted the gentle lie without a quiver. There was a single morning mail, and perhaps—perhaps—but who can tell? They drove slowly through the crisp autumn air and returned at dinner time. They were both very silent and grave. The man was more concerned over the white drawn face at his side than at the neglect of his sons. If they only knew—if they only knew!



THEY RAISED THEIR EYES.

They sat down at the table alone, she rousing herself by a final effort for the sake of the man who had shared her life's burdens with her, and he kindly, courteous and considerate of her every little comfort. "Mother, we will ask a blessing for our sons and their families," he began.

The plates were set for the seven, a custom never abandoned even though they remained empty throughout the Thanksgiving meal. The two did not hear the outside noises, nor the rattle of the lumbering stage, nor the lifting of the latch. When they raised their eyes the room was full of bearded and bronzed and pale and clean shaven faces—faces which in spite of wind and weather and toil and sweat had a strange family resemblance. It was unusual that they should be there, but it did not seem strange, so confident was the mother heart that her prayer would be answered.

"Mother, I was worried. Your letters were so different, and I came home instead of writing."

It was the eldest who spoke and embraced her. "And I met the others on the train or at the station," he continued. "They felt the same and could not wait to write."

"Yes, mother," added another, a little reproachfully, "it made me homesick not to hear from you oftener, and when your letters did come they were so—so different. I knew something was wrong with either you or father. What is it?"

They glanced from one aged parent to the other. The faded eyes of the woman turned tremblingly from one to the other and finally sought in fear and confusion the face of her husband. He nodded responsively.

"Yes, mother has been sick—heartsick," he began slowly. "You were homesick, but she was heartsick. She has been giving you of her life, but you have returned little of yours. She has carried the old home to you in her letters, but you have neglected her in yours."

Even then the mother hunger was predominant and could not abide the chastening of her offsprings. The frail hand waved aside the speaker, but he added softly:

"Even now she's ready to give more than she will receive."

Then, with a twinkle in his eyes:

"Mother, is the feast spread for nine or two?"

Ten years suddenly slipped from the gray head and the frail body, and the face was wreathed in a holy smile as she bustled about and changed dishes and added more to the table's supply.

THE RAID ON THE KITCHEN.

"We only set places for your spirits, and not for your bodies," she murmured guiltily. "And you are all such hearty eaters!"

"Yes, hearty eaters—big eaters, mother!" they said in one voice. "But we know where you keep the turkey and the cranberry sauce and the pumpkin pies and all the other good things. Wait until we see?"

The raid on the kitchen which followed worked havoc with the week's cooking, but the joyous cries and wrangling words mingled with laughter were music to her ears. She had her seven sons back again, and they were boys still in spite of beards and deeply lined foreheads and wrinkled cheeks.

WATCHING THE FADING LIGHT.

They sat there a long time watching the fading light and the coming up of the new moon. The dew of the evening wet them before they rose slowly and made their way inside.

Long habit and training cannot be changed in a day or night, and a mother's yearning for her sons insisted that some message should be sent, but each week the letters grew shorter and there was no heart or life in them. Sometimes they were so perfunctory that one was merely a duplicate of the other, a mere reference to the weather and crops and an assurance that all were well. The hand copied from day to day what the brain had dictated for one. There was little variation.

In a few days I receive signed by Edward Bucklin that the paper had fallen hands and that it had afford couple of hours' entertainm yond this there was somet pleasant in occupying his wondering what sort of fell He had pictured me as a m or old man—the young are selfish, he said—with a benev and undoubtedly interested itable work.

I wrote a reply, in which I from giving any informat myself, though I asked him with his imaginative pictur I wished to know how near he would come. This elicite reply, in which he deduced one act of thoughtfulness tues—for instance, a thoug was sure to be a well poised since self control was the qualification for bravery brave. By such logical ded endowed me with so many fications that I was very pr self. Besides, it was quite to see how he worked it supposition that I was a m

One day I wrote asking pose that a woman had se paper and deduce from this what kind of person she His reply was that such far more within woman's man's; therefore it did not the woman who perpetrate far superior to others of h man who did the same thin above his. "But," he co confess that I should, afte appreciated it more had it a woman than a man, and son: Nature has not given er to respond to a man's us as for a woman's. Inde who gives to another man his feelings for that man. I have deduced special q from your act is that it man's rather than a man's it by no means indicated nine traits. Indeed, it is t nine trait a man can marks him for the high man."

I received in time a that my correspondent w charged from the hospit few days. That he had a his own is manifest from "I would be glad to meet seems to me it would agreeable in the end for us come together. My reason written you. There can demonstrative between tw should shake hands cold few commonplace remar other and separate. Thos ings to which we have g sion when separated w tame if spoken. In othe man's nature prevents u thing like expressed sent will say goodby to you, with you."

I wrote him in reply th agree with him: that histo story were each and all f ples of men whose hearts each other. What could be of this than the case of Pythias? I closed my no quest that he meet me at a Sunday afternoon, Sund only day that I was free.

His next note surprised refused to meet me. "Giv this pleasant episode," he meeting. I confess I sho what to say to you. Were an I could take you in m your lips and pour out you—a heart which has the delightful traits yo played by the first act an sequent correspondence."

Now, I leave it to the was not an embarrassing me. Nevertheless I hesit ing and finally secured went to the room wh to meet I found a ple man of thirty-five, bearin intellect, refinement and advanced toward him, s your correspondent." I s ing permitted you to su am a man has been a s interest to me. I have things that were before known to me."

My smile was replied d did not give me the blan prise I had expected. quickly:

"You did not suspect?"

"No."

"Then why do you prise?"

"I did not suspect; I k
